

President's Corner: September, 2008

Hello all.

The days are getting shorter and the temperature is dropping. With the cruising season coming to an end, it is once again time to start contemplating when to park the car for the winter. However, for those who hope to get the Mustang and the family out for one more event, you are in luck. The SCMC Fall Tour is just a couple of weeks away on October 25th. Once again a lot of planning and hard work went into this year's event, so mark the date on your calendar. Please check out the flyer in this newsletter. We have also included a couple of other events going on in the month of October for those who are interested.

Well, that is all for now.
